BEGINNING OF FIGHT ON OUTLAW LEAGUE

First Gun Fired by Organized Baseball When Boston Team Is Instructed Not to Play on Grounds of Newport News Club.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norfolk, Va., April 5.—Organized baseball has opened up the war on the Tidewater League as an outlaw organization. The first gun was fired this afternoon when Secretary Farrell of the National Association of Baseball Clubs, notified Manager Tenney of the Boston Nationals, that he must not, under the rules of organized baseball, play on the grounds of the Newport News Baseball Club, which teams is a member of the Tidewater League. He further notified Mr. Tenney that to do so would mean that his club would be subjected to a heavy fine, and probably other penalties.

Manager Tenney immediately called off the dogs in Newport News, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, and so notified that management. He arranged immediately to re-invoke the Tidewater League, and to meet the Tars in a game at Athletic Field.

While nothing is known here as to why Secretary Farrell sent the notice to Manager Tenney, it is believed that it followed a protest filed by President Williams of the Virginia League, and that its aim is to cripple the Tidewater League, and prevent it from playing on the grounds of the Newport News Baseball Club, which teams is a member of the Tidewater League.

Under the national agreement, Norfolk is what is called protected territory, and in invading it the Tidewater League places itself in the position of an outlaw league. Under the rules of the association clubs enjoying protected territory are not allowed to recognize a club thus classed as outlaw in any manner. It is this law that has been

COMISKY INSURES MEMBERS OF TEAM

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Chicago, April 5.—In an effort to protect himself from loss of money, as well as of a rifle, when his players become ill or are injured, Charles A. Comisky, owner of the Chicago Americans, has had each player insured. This plan has been under consideration for some time, but it was not until last week that Comisky was induced to insure his players. It was the result of a letter from a player in the Chicago team, who had been injured, and who was unable to play, and who was offered $25 per week as long as the athlete is out of the game.

A. A. C. CHAIRMAN NOTIFIED THAT MEET IS CALLED OFF

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, D. C., April 5.—W. G. Stuart, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union Registration Committee, today received word that the proposed meeting of the track games, scheduled for next Wednesday at Richmond, had been abandoned. Stuart, who is expected to arrive in Richmond tomorrow, is expected to be one of the biggest in the South, but there were some differences between the managers, and the result that the games have been called off.

ORDERS UNIVERSITY TO ABOLISH BASEBALL

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
San Francisco, Cal., April 5.—President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford University, has issued an order that the committee on athletics should discontinue the college baseball. To the further discomfiture of the college athletes, Dr. Frank Angell, chairman of the Stanford committee on athletics, stated that in all probability both baseball and football, as sports, will be done away with at Stanford. Dr. Jordan witnessed one of the games in which Stanford defeated the University of California recently, and became highly indignant at what he termed "systematic muckering." He is expected to be one of the biggest in the South, but there were some differences between the managers, and the result that the games have been called off.

HOPPE STILL PLAYING BILLIARDS IN FRANCE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
New York, April 5.—While Hoppe, holder of the world's championship at 181 and 182 ball line billiards, is still playing in France, despite the papers which were served upon him by the Paris police shortly after his arrival, calling for his departure from the country within twenty-four hours. According to cablegrams received by his father, the matter was satisfactorily settled, and the young champion has been making record performances ever since. Hoppe's opponent is playing most unevenly, but the young American continues to show his ability to work up runs of three figures. A list of his best runs in recent games is as follows: 272, 346, 323, 291 and 201. After three months in Paris, Hoppe is turning to this country in the early part of a month, with other Ora Mornitz and George Sutton.

WILL PLAY ON MONDAY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Suffolk, Va., April 5.—The Nationals of the Tidewater League will play their first exhibition game Monday with Suffolk High School.

RAIN PREVENTS OUTDOOR WORK

V. P. I. Squad Has Had No Opportunity to Get in Any Practice.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Blacksburg, Va., April 5.—Of the average regular games to be played on the V. P. I. baseball schedule, the one with Roanoke College was called off on account of the weather, two were played with Emory and Henry under conditions that were uncomfortable alike for players and spectators, and the two games with Oak Ridge, set for Monday and Tuesday, had to be given up on account of a three days' rain. Further than this, the team has had only four days of real practice, and but one six-inning contest, with the second team, Hampden-Sidney comes here Friday for two games, but there is little prospect now for any improvement in the weather.

Emory and Henry only made two runs in either game, the techs winning the first by a score of 1 to 2, and the second, 7 to 2. Bernier, B. Hodgson and Cox were in the box, and Loege did the work behind the bat. Bernier was the star pitcher for Hampden-Sidney last season, and will likely appear against his former college mates in the games here this week. Bernier is a member of the team last year, Moore and Collier, the latter a left-handed pitcher, and Chilton, who made good on his class team last season, are among those trying for places in the box.

Until the regular league season begins, the coaching staff will have the benefit of coaching by N. D. Pritchard, of the Roanoke League. Pritchard was a student here for several years, and his work on the team was such as to get him into professional work. With the material at hand, the well known coach of Roanoke, Va., and the assistance of Pritchard, there is every chance for V. P. I. to have a winning ball team this spring if there is any let-up in the continuous rain and cold weather that have visited this section for the last three weeks. Other teams have the advantage of some facilities for indoor training, but V. P. I. has none.

WILL MAKE TEST CASE OF FORM OF BETTING

Two Bookmakers at Jamestown Arrested After Day's Races.

UNIQUE METHOD ADOPTED
Antenor Takes Victoria Hotel Stakes—Jockey's Leg Broken.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norfolk, Va., April 5.—At the close of the races this evening constables arrested two of the bookmakers who operated at the Jamestown track, and the form of betting observed in the ring will be tested out to-morrow before Justice Bachus, of Norfolk county, with Commonwealth's Attorney Marshall representing the State.

Although officers were present and observed at all that went on, none was molested while the races were in progress, but names were taken and notes made of what transpired. It is understood that the matter was arranged between the promoters' attorneys and Captain Marshall not to have any trouble or a scene, but that the method of making books decided on would be used to-morrow, and the bookies arrested by the arrest of one or two at the close of the day's program.

Both the style of business the bookies adopted is unique, and, according to the local advice they have received, it is believed that the odds are displayed in the ring, but they are published on the official program. Persons desiring to make bets enter the ring, and it is easy for them to have designated to them the men ready to accommodate with a bet, and the bookies are present to act as stakeholders.

Bookies Are Stakeholders.
The bookies, as stakeholders, record the bets by the number of the odds of the better, and pay him if he wins. The opposing bettor, of course, is a partner of the bookie.

By this method it is claimed that the bets are made by individuals; that no public book is operated, and that no law is violated. The method is fully the following instance will help: Smith enters the betting ring and wants to bet on, say, High Private in the fourth race. A man declares the odds will be five to one that High Private will not finish first.

Antenor Takes Victoria Hotel Stakes.
Antenor, who owned by W. P. Austin, captured the Victoria Hotel stakes in the feature event of the opening day of the Jamestown Jockey Club season, which is to continue through April 26. Antenor was backed down from 12 to 1 to 5 to 1.

During the running of the fifth race, Antenor's horse, the only horse to finish was Nick O' Time, the 3 to 1 second choice.

WORKHORSE PARADE WILL BE A FEATURE

Horse Show Association Provides for Display of Draft Animals—Officers of United States Army to Compete in Both Horse Show and Racing Classes.

The management of the Virginia Racing and Horse Show Association is rapidly completing its plans for the great spring meet in May. The prize list of the Horse Show feature is now in the hands of the printer, and will be ready in a few days.

The fact that the army officers will compete in this feature of the show will make it spectacular and cause additional interest. While all of the classes will be open to army officers, one class will be specially for the officers of the United States Army, and a handsome cup will be given to the winner.

Richmond will be the only place in the United States where the horses of the United States government and officers of the army will compete in both a regular horse show and racing meet this season, and this very fact will mean towards establishing the type of charger best suited for an army officer.

To improve the mounts of the officers and establish a type of the Cavalry Association of the United States Army introduced last year the charger class in the horse shows in Virginia and offered a handsome cup to the winner of this class at the greatest number of shows, which was won by James W. Graves' Rutledge, a thoroughbred gelding, four years old, sixteen hands and weighing 1,025 pounds.

It is a notable fact that of the nine shows this class was won seven times by thoroughbreds and twice by half-breds where no thoroughbreds were shown.

In the race feature there will be two military races—a flat race of two miles and a steeplechase of two miles—the weights to be carried in both being 165 pounds.

The Jefferson Hotel and Murphy's Hotel have offered a handsome cup to the winner in each race.

One of the most notable features of the meet last year was the work-horse parade, which was nearly a mile and a half long, and the number and quality of the teams shown was a revelation to every one.

Boston has held the most successful one for the past few years and Richmond is the first city in the South to introduce this novel and attractive feature. It has already been productive of much good.

The appearance of the teams before and after the parade showed much greater attention on the part of the drivers both to harness and animals. The horse parade this year will be on the last day of the show, Monday, May 22, and a program is being mapped out so that the business firms of Richmond and show their teams in a parade that will be a credit to any city even of a much larger population, and it is hoped that the firms will contribute to the success of the Horse Show Association in this worthy movement.

Ashland, Va., April 5.—Manager Mac Hart's, Ashland team will meet the Highlanders, of the Richmond Association, here on the local grounds next Saturday. The Highlanders have a strong team, and as Manager Hart's team is going good an exciting game is promised. The Ashland players have been much encouraged since their victory over the Richmond Collieries Saturday before last. The locals showed in this game, as well as in games previously played, that they could hit, and they should win many games the coming season if they continue to use the stick as they have done thus far. Dr. Jordan, the hard-hitting center fielder, will probably join the team Saturday. His return to the game will greatly strengthen the club.
